ASUS VG278H 3D Vision 2 monitor review

" The entertainment industry is forcing the consumer to adopt nascent 3D technology. Watch a Hollywood blockbuster and, now, it's 'also' available in 2D. Consider purchasing a premium LCD or plasma TV and the specs will doubtless scream '3D compatibility.' Like it or not, 3D is here to stay. PC graphics-card manufacturers have also been pushing 3D of late. NVIDIA, especially, has recently put greater stock in the inchoate stereoscopic three-dimensional technology by bringing the second iteration of its 3D Vision initiative to market. "
